In October, 1829, she was married to Martin W. Packer, the son of a well-to-do farmer at Wyckoff. About a year after the matriage a baby was born to the ecuple. It is from that I me that Mrs. Packer dates the beginning of her troubles. Packer didn't believe that his wife should live the idle life of a lady, aithough her busband was considered a rich man, so he sent her into the field to work with the laborners. In her bill Mrs. Packer says that she had to take her busby out to the field with her and make a bed for it on the ground, that she might watch it will be she worked. She says that her husband wasn't satisfied with making her dig potatoes and hose corn, but forced her to drive wagonioads of toe babages to New-York to market. She had to get up soon after midnight, and sometimes had to be up all night. Packer went along on the wagon, but, she alleges, he was so often frunk that she had to do the driving. On one occasion, when they were driving back to Wyckoff from New-York, her hat was blown off. She wished to stop and get it, but was blown off. She wished to stop and get it, but was blown off. ### BLUM'S LATEST PERFORMANCE.

HE WANTED SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS FOR AN ALLEGED PARTY OF AUSTRIANS, BUT HASN'T BEEN SEEN SINCE.

A reporter of The Tribune went vesterday to No. president and general passenger agent of the West his plans and purposes. Dr. Blum is an Austrian. about thirty-five years old, of good address, full of big ideas, and his clothes are said to be plastered all over with decorations which he has received from kings, emperors and the like.

It is said that Blum, or Emanuel Borges, or Baron Niederndorf, as he is variously called, has had a queer career in this country, and is known for several vagaries that seem without motive. He has brothers of some rank in Austria, whence he was obliged to free from the wrath he had aroused by certain newspaper articles. In this city his pleasing address, as long as people asked no questions, made him something of a favorite. From New-York he preceded to Hoston, where he got a place in the Institute of Technology and even invaded the district of the Back Bay. Presently he began delivering lectures through the country, and said such disagreeable things about the Bostonians that he had to abandon the platform and take refuge in the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, of Cleveland, Ohio, where he was an efficient director for some time. UPSET BY THE DEATH OF HER CHILD. A PRISONER FAINTS WHEN HEARING UNEX-PECTEDLY OF THE LITTLE ONE'S END-

MORE CHARGES AGAINST MRS. SCHUH. Mrs. Margaret Schuh, the young wife of William Schuh, a manufacturing tailor, living at No. 175 Bo-gart-st., who was arrested two weeks ago on complaint of Mrs. Annie Blum, a washerwoman, who charged the prisoner with swindling her out of $200, was taken from the County Juli to the Ewen Street Police Court yesterday for examination. When Mrs Schuh was arrested her husband refused to go on her ball bond, and the went to jail. Since her arrest more than a dozen persons have made complaints her bail bond, and the went to lail. Since her arrival more than a dozen persons have made complaints against her alleging that they, too, fell easy victims to Mrs. Schuh's method of swindling, Mrs. Schuh is twenty-live years old, while her husband is eleven years her senior.

At the time of her arrest Mrs. Schuh's sevenmonths-old child was siek. On Sunday the child died. The death was not communicated to the mother. After the examination yesterialy the woman was about to be placed in the van when one of her husbands employes, who was waiting outside the court, shouled to her that the baby was dead. Mrs. Schuh gave a piercing sariek and fell forward in a faint. She was prevented from failing to the sidewalk by the officer who was escorting her to the van.

Schuh appeared in court yesterday after the case had been adjourned and his wife sent back to the prisoners pen. Mrs. Schuh says she had stee when she was married to her husband, while he had nothing. Now he owns six tehement houses, she says, and employs nearly seventy people and runs thirty-one machines. She said she worked for him after their marriage until she was compelled to stop on account of her household duties. They had three children. The money, she said, had been horrowed by her to buy things for her house.

FOR A NEW CHURCH FOR DR. TALMAGE, BONDS MAY BE ASSUED TO RAISE MONEY, BEAR-

Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage in Brooklyn has been mitted to President Moody, of the Board of Trusattended the Tabernacle for many years, $100, non-interest-bearing, and maturing in twenty graph of Dr. Talmage and a picture of the church, Mr. Stanton said vesterday that he thought it would take little effort to dispose of those bonds to the amount of $300,000. Many persons would take the bonds for the sake of the portrait and autograph of Dr. Talmage, and few of them would be presented for redemption at the end of twenty years. Strangers going to hear Dr. Talmage preach would purchase thousands of the dollar bonds as sourceitrs. Mr. Stanton said he would favor a new church organization, and the name Talmage instead of Tabernacle for the church. He would be in favor of rebuilding on the Clinton-ave, site, and according to the old plans, but would recommend that the structure be of stee. He believed that an edifice better than the one destroyed could be built for less money. money.

Leonard Moody said yesterday that he had not yet been able to present the plan of Mr. Stanton to the trustees, but he believed it a good one. It would have to be submitted to the people before it would be known whether or not they would support it.

"THE SPIRIT OF "76."

"The Spirit of '75" is the title of a bright, entertaining, illustrated monthly, which has just made interests of the societies of ladies and gentlemen who are descended from the soldiers and salors of the American Revolution, the Colonial wars and the War of 1812. The appearance of this magazine was to have been expected. The societies of which it is to be the mouthpiece are now actively building monuments, adorning historic spots with bronze tablets, persuading the whole country to fly the banner of the United States on June 11, as well as reviving the songs of the Revolution, and striv ing for brand new National anthems, and in engagin ing for brain is well abors. They have now reached in other patriotic labors. They have now reached considerable importance in social and public life, and that they should flustly have a magazine of their own is a necessary consequence of their ex-istence. "The Spirit of "76" is as bright and paistence. "The Spirit of 76" is as bright and particulte as its title, begins its career with the admirable purpose of promoting particulum and avoiding controversy, and promises to lay before it readers each month a budget of anctent history and modern gossip which cannot fail to interest at the sons and daughters of the beroes of the older times. Sockitt keeps a furnishing goods store. Sells nothing else. Store rent, house rent, butcher, baker, cocktail shaker-all have to be paid out of the profits on furnishing goods.

Frockitt, merchant tailor, lives well on the profits of clothing made to order. Russitt keeps "well-heeled" on the profits of his shoe business. We have as large a stock of hats as Blockitt. We sell as many furnishing AUDEMAIR goods as Sockitt. We make as many clothes to order as Frockitt. We sell as many shoes as Russitt. And we combine all four with a Ready-to-wear Clothing business large enough in itself to pay all our expenses, and a good sight more. Are we monopolists? No!

We're simply Clothiers, in all that the word implies. If people prefer to buy their Hats, Furnishings and Shoes -as well as Clothing-of us, it's because they have found it profitable to do so. There's no sentiment in business. Hackett, Carhart & Co.'s Fall Overcoats.

Wear is the true test of shoe value and we'll match our $3 and $4 shoes for service against any footwear that's made. Finer leather and work manship does not necessarily mean longer wear. It is more a matter of taste than feeling. Of course we have finer shoes,

What we think of "cheap" clothing and "cheap" orang-hing else, is beat illustrated by our catalogue. Send for t; free. ROGERS, PEET & CO.
